Communicating Your Science: From Blank Screen to Published Article for Students, Trainees & Early-stage Professionals (and a refresher for all who are interested)

2020 ACCP Webinar

Live Session: Monday, February 3, 2020 from 11:00 AM to 12:30 PM ET

On Demand: February 3, 2020 to February 3, 2023

Why is this webinar important to you?

Disseminating the results of scientific research as manuscripts and getting published is the ultimate accumulation of research and goal of all scientists. ACCP wants to advance the cumulative knowledge of all working in the field. The scientific writing process can be intimidating for new researchers and early-career healthcare professionals. Preparing a clear and concise manuscript from a bulky, clinical study report designed to communicate thousands of pages of data to regulatory authorities is a challenge for those who work in industry, academia or conduct research. Building on a Pre-meeting Workshop presented at the 2019 ACCP Annual Meeting, this webinar combines lectures from accomplished researchers, including the Editors-in-Chief of the ACCP journals. Attendees will be guided through the steps of drafting an outline, completing a manuscript and understanding the key elements of the review process for publication. The webinar provides the opportunity to acquire knowledge on writing, organizing and revising of manuscripts.

JOINTLY ACCREDITED PROVIDER™
INTERPROFESSIONAL CONTINUING EDUCATION

Joint Accreditation Statement

In support of improving patient care, the American College of Clinical Pharmacology® (ACCP) is jointly accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME), the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE), and the American Nurses Credentialing Center (ANCC), to provide continuing education for the healthcare team.

Activity Type: Knowledge-based Format: Live & Home-study Target Audience: 'P'

Continuing Nursing Education: 1.5 Contact hours.

ACCME Designation Statement

The Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education designates this live and enduring activity for 1.5 AMA PRA Category 1™ credit. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Target Audience

Interprofessional team of Physicians, Pharmacists, PhDs, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants and Students.

Learning Objectives

After completing this activity, the learner will be able to:

- 1) Articulate the process and key steps of outlining, drafting, editing and submitting a manuscript to communicate research to the scientific community or within a current career in clinical pharmacology;

- 2) Demonstrate newly-gained knowledge of the process of writing, reviewing, editing and revising draft scientific manuscripts in order to improve the likelihood of acceptance and provide a high-quality revised manuscript;
- 3) Recognize different manuscript formats (brief reports, short communication, expert opinion, full-length article and review article) and appropriate supporting documents/supplemental material that are necessary to effectively communicate scientific research results;
- 4) Deepen the expertise and understanding of the differences between journals and to choose the appropriate journal in order for research to achieve the best exposure/impact;
- 5) Recognize potential of target journal being a predatory or opportunistic journal.

Requirements to Receive Credit

In order to receive continuing medical education (CME) or continuing pharmacy education (CPE) credit, the learner must register for the educational activity, attend the Live webinar or view the On-Demand webinar, complete the online learning Self-assessment Post-test as well as the online course Evaluation. Credits and CME/CPE Certificates must be claimed within thirty (30) days of completing the webinar, Post-test and Evaluation. Contact CE@ACCP1.org with any questions.
