Precision Oncology Medicine: The Clinical Relevance of Patient-specific Biomarkers Used to Optimize Cancer Treatment

ACCP 2018 Virtual Journal Club Webinars

Live Session: Wednesday, November 28, 2018 from 2:00pm to 3:00pm ET

On Demand: November 28, 2018 to November 28, 2021

Why is this webinar important to you?

The goal of this activity is to provide a comprehensive overview of clinically-relevant biomarkers and molecular profiling platforms in precision oncology medicine to optimize cancer treatment outcomes.

ACPE Accreditation Statement

The American College of Clinical Pharmacology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Pharmacy Education (ACPE) as a provider of continuing pharmacy education.

UAN: 0238-0000-18-043-L/H01-P– ACPE 1 Contact Hours

Activity Type: Knowledge-based Format: Live & Home-study Target Audience: 'P'

ACCME
ACCREDITED

ACCME Accreditation Statement

The American College of Clinical Pharmacology is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

ACCME Designation Statement

The Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education designates this live and enduring CE activity for 1 AMA PRA Category 1™ credit. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Target Audience

Interprofessional team of Physicians, Pharmacists, PhDs, Nurse Practitioners and Physician Assistants.

Learning Objectives

After completing this activity, the learner will be able to:

- 1) Describe the difference between prognostic and predictive oncology biomarkers;
- 2) Discuss prognostic biomarkers including drug-target pairs and their companion diagnostic tests;
- 3) Explain how drug sensitivity/resistance, metabolism and toxicity relate to predictive biomarkers;
- 4) List current efforts to improve the advancing field of precision oncology medicine.

Requirements to Receive Credit

In order to receive CE credit, the learner must register for the educational activity, study the provided journal article, attend the Live webinar or view the on-demand webinar, complete the online learning self-assessment (post-event test), complete the online course evaluation and print the certificate within thirty (30) days of completing the webinar.
